

Darci Russell

Darci grew up in the Pacific Northwest, spending most of her life growing up in Bellevue, WA. Her career was spent in sales, marketing and events working closely with local vendors/hotels delivering programs to clients locally, nationally and internationally. She began her career in event planning and worked her way through sales, marketing and eventually running a Seattle-based event management firm. Darci enjoys her free time gardening, doing landscaping projects, interior design, cooking and spending time with friends. Her favorite thing to do is spend time with her family (and dog Brody) and friends on Treasure Island boating, barbecuing, and enjoying the scenery.
